Trouble—Spanish, Mexican. Which Bank Biggest? Uncle Sam Raises Germs. Lady Health Joins Us.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

P RIMO DE RIVERA and his king, Alfonso of Spain, have a rebellion on their hands. There is always rebellion in Catalonia, always singing "Weep, Weep, Catalonia." But this latest rebellion is said to have spread over all Spain, affecting the army.

Alfonso breaks all speed laws, plays a hard game of polo, enjoys bull fights, always smiles and is popular. De Rivera is not so popular. Not everybody can do what Mussolini and Kemal Pasha can do.

T Rouble continues in Mexico. "Rebels" dynamite a passenger and freight train. Three bombs demolished the engine and an armored car filled with soldiers was overturned. A religious war is a bitter war.

B RITISH COLUMBIA police, with "tear gas" bombs, captured 10 "Donkhor" religious fanatics. Donkhobors think Providence doesn't want them to wear clothes, even in zero weather, call themselves "Sons of Freedom" and refuse to dress their children for school. All religious ideas should be respected, but sometimes they put men off the track.

W HICH is to be the country's biggest bank? The National City of New York leads now. The American Exchange Bank-Irving Trust company, headed by President Harry E. Ward, recently moved up to fourth place.

Now there is talk of creating a two billion dollar bank by merging the Guaranty Trust company and the Bank of Commerce.

B ETWEEN them these two banks would have more than two thousand million dollars. What Charles E. Mitchell, head of the country's biggest bank, would do if the first place were taken from him remains to be seen. He probably would do "SOMETHING."

The $1,000,000 Stock Exchange seat will come in due time, also the $1,000,000 investment trust and the $5,000,000 bank of what Andrew Jackson think of that "By the eternal?"

U NCLE SAM will raise influenza germs, try them on animals soon, possibly on humans later, seeking a remedy. The Rockefeller Institute has been busy with those germs for some years.

THE difficulty is to isolate the individual germ that causes influenza. Scientists only know that it is a germ small enough to pass through a porcelain filter. Influenza germs don't like fresh air or the juice of oranges. So have plenty of both.

THIS country, fortunate in many things reports a considerable drop in the number of influenza cases. The disease is spreading in Great Britain. In Glasgow the unemployed have been put to work helping grave diggers. Six hundred and fifty-four died in one week.

L ADY HEATH, wife of Sir James Heath, a brilliant female flier, turns American, takes the oath of loyalty to Uncle Sam, and says she doesn't care what her husband thinks.

SHE wishes you to know that she has eaten her first "hot dog," likes America, and doesn't care whether you call her "Lady" or "Mrs." as long as you are friendly. This lady, under any name, will make her way.

G OV. SMITH shook hands with President-elect Hoover at Miami Wednesday. Departing, he wished Mr. Hoover "all good luck," adding, "And I mean it." He might have said what Socrates said to his judges.

To have responsibility for this country's government on your hands during the next four or eight years is not necessarily "A pleasure."

LEON TROTZKY OFF FOR TURKEY

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Following closely upon reports that Leon Trotsky had been banished from Soviet territory came an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Helsinki, Finland, today reporting the arrest of M. Kamenoff and Gregory Zinovietff in their homes in Moscow.

Kamenoff and Zinovietff held high official positions in the Soviet in the days when Lenin and Trotsky reigned. Both were banished from the Communist party with Trotsky.

BOY IS BURNED WHILE AT PLAY

John, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Palmer, of Virginia avenue, Chester, is in a critical condition in the city hospital today, suffering from burns about the face and neck sustained at 5 o'clock last night while playing in front of an open gas fire in his home.

ELEANOR SMITH, 17, HANGS UP NEW MARK FOR SOLO FLYING

Pretty Aviatrix Aloft 13 Hours, 16 Minutes, 45 Seconds.

WOMEN'S RECORD

Beats Endurance Test Made by Miss Bobbie Trout.

MITCHEL FIELD, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Miss Eleanor Smith, pretty 17-year-old aviatrix, landed at the field at 3:33:55 o'clock this morning in her biplane after establishing a new solo endurance flight record for women. She had been aloft 13 hours and 16 minutes and 45 seconds, or one hour and six minutes longer than the mark set a few weeks ago by Miss Bobbie Trout at Los Angeles.

Official Recognition Unlikely. Although a sealed barograph was installed in the plane by National Aeronautical association officials, her mark probably will not be recognized officially. The association draws no distinction between endurance flights by men and women.

The American Aeronautical association and its parent body, the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, have under advisement the establishment of a special classification for women's records, however, and Miss Smith's performance will be filed by the American Aeronautical association for entry in the records which a new classification is made. Miss Smith conformed to the requirement of exceeding the previous record by one hour.

Breaks Two Other Records. Miss Smith, who secured her private pilot's license last year, broke two other records at 11 o'clock last night. At that hour she had been aloft eight and three-quarters hours, flight in this section and a longer stretch of night flying than had been accomplished by any other woman solo flier.

The blond aviatrix did her night flying with only the beacon light at the field to guide her. At her request, army officers did not turn on the flood lights until she fired a red flare from her signal pistol as an indication that she was about to land.

When she took off at 2:17 p. m. yesterday, the youthful aviatrix had 115 gallons of gasoline aboard.

HIT-RUN DRIVER STRIKES WOMAN

Mrs. Gladys Bosel, 27, 680 Green lane, was today recovering from injuries to her knees and left wrist sustained yesterday when struck by an unidentified motorist in the River road near the C. C. Thompson pottery.

Mrs. Bosel was on way to the Harbor pottery, when the accident occurred. The driver failed to stop, she said.

She was taken to her home.

FIRE DESTROYS WRECKED AUTO

A new roadster owned and driven by Edward McCourtney, of Lisbon, was destroyed by fire at 11:30 o'clock last night when it skidded from the road and plunged into a creek at Shelton's grove, Salem-Lisbon highway.

McCourtney, who was enroute from Salem to Lisbon, was uninjured.

PRESS SEVERS WORKER'S FINGER

The little finger on the right hand of Harold Freeman, 19, of Norton street, was amputated yesterday afternoon at the Adamant Porcelain company plant, Seventh street, when it was caught in a press he was operating. He was attended at the City hospital by Dr. Frank R. Harrison.

Ten Dealers Approve Plans For Auto Show in Spring

Donald K. Trotter, elected President of Club Organized at Luncheon. Ten East Liverpool automobile dealers, at a luncheon meeting in the Travelers' hotel, yesterday, approved plans for an automobile show here early in the spring.

M. E. Eppey, Michael Turk and R. C. Burson were named to negotiate for a location for the proposed show and also select a tentative date. They will report at a meeting next Wednesday noon.

SETS AIR MARK

Pretty Eleanor Smith, 17, the flying flapper of Freeport, L. I., landed today at Mitchell Field, N. Y., after establishing a new solo endurance record for women. She had been aloft 13 hours, 16 minutes and 45 seconds.

FALLING WALL KILLS FIREMAN

Five Others Injured While Fighting Chicago Blaze.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Fireman John J. Carey was killed and five others were injured, one perhaps fatally, today when they were caught under a falling wall while fighting a fire in a laundry building here.

Timothy Donohue, 31, suffered a fractured skull and is not expected to live. Comrades of the buried fireman dug into the smoldering debris with picks and bare hands and dragged the victims to places of safety.

Damage to the laundry plant was estimated at between $75,000 and $150,000.

PRESIDENT GOES TO FLORIDA CITY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—President Coolidge leaves this afternoon for Mountain Lake, Florida, to dedicate tomorrow a singing tower and bird sanctuary donated by Edward W. Bok.

The schedule calls for Mr. Coolidge to be in Florida only 6½ hours. He will be on the train 57 hours. He will return to the capital Saturday night.

CERAMIC TEACHER PLACE VACANT

Members of the advisory board of the United States Pottery's association will confer with the board of education at the high school building tonight to discuss a successor to Prof. J. M. Schultz, Zanesville, ceramic teacher, whose resignation becomes effective tomorrow.

The manufacturers' committee is headed by Malcolm Thompson, president of the United States Pottery's association.

Ten Dealers Approve Plans For Auto Show in Spring

Donald K. Trotter, elected President of Club Organized at Luncheon. A permanent organization to be known as the East Liverpool Automobile Dealers' club was formed at this meeting, at which Michael Turk presided.

Donald K. Trotter was elected president, A. R. Kapp vice-president and Robert J. McElravy, secretary-treasurer.

No automobile show has been held here for at least five years, the last having been conducted in the three-story Cermarda building, East Fifth street. All automobile dealers of the district will be invited to participate in the show.

SAYS BUCKLEY SENT "TIPS" ON BREWERY RAIDS BY U. S. AGENTS

John Schrimper Tells Court Meaning of Telegrams.

EXPLAINS PLAN

State Treasurer is Ready to Stand in Trial.

By JOHN J. VINCENT.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 31.—John F. Eckhart, the government's star witness in the trial of State Treasurer Bert B. Buckley on bribery and liquor conspiracy charges, was recalled to the witness stand this morning, and before he could testify a word the court was adjourned until 2 o'clock.

The government announced it would rest its case, but defense counsel requested that Eckhart be recalled and Judge Benson W. Hough ordered the assistant prohibition commissioner to take the witness stand.

Government Witness on Stand.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 31.—That Bert B. Buckley, state treasurer, actually did send "tips" to John Schrimper, who was jointly indicted with Buckley on conspiracy charges, when breweries were to be raided by federal prohibition agents, was the highlight of Schrimper's testimony at the morning session of the Buckley trial.

Schrimper told the court that the word "briefs" in the telegrams which have been introduced into the record was code for "breweries." Among the telegrams shown the court was at least one which stated that "the attorneys" were to look over certain Cincinnati "briefs."

The witness admitted that he called officials of the Jackson Brewery company after the receipt of one such telegram to give the information that an inspection was pending.

"Protection Money" Offer Told. Schrimper, continuing his testimony, said he returned to Cincinnati Oct. 14, and that the next day he saw Gruber, and told him of Buckley's offer for "protection money."

Relating further details of the alleged conspiracy the witness told of interviewing two other officials of breweries in connection with a plan whereby "good beer" could be made. The breweries named were the Ohio Union brewery and the Hudypohl brewery.

Schrimper said he next came to Columbus Oct. 20; that he, Buckley and Gruber had dinner together; and that the Cincinnati beer situation was again discussed. The witness charged that Buckley told him Eckhart would "fix things" so that the permit of the Jackson brewery would not be withdrawn.

Again the statement that Buckley expected a "big fine house out of the deal" was reiterated by Schrimper. Schrimper testified that Buckley told him it was arranged with the federal officers to be "tipped" ahead of time when Cincinnati breweries were to be inspected. He (Schrimper) was cautioned, however, to do nothing until he (Buckley) advised them, the testimony again showed. The Oct. 20 meeting was the last he had with the state treasurer, the witness declared.

Mau Conducts Examination. Haveth E. Mau U. S. district attorney, conducted the direct examination. Schrimper was given a letter written by Buckley on Ohio state treasury paper. He identified it. The letter thanked Schrimper for notifying him (Buckley) as to the result of the voting in Hamilton county. It also contained a paragraph saying Schrimper would hear from him during his vacation.

Another note, written by Buckley, handed Schrimper, read in part: "Must have another good name on my expense account so I. L. S. will be used. Agreed." The note, Schrimper testified, was enclosed in the letter.

Numerous telegrams were then (Continued on page 8, column 3)

ARGUE SINCLAIR APPEAL FEB. 4

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The appeal of Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns and their associates from the jail sentences imposed upon them a year ago for alleged jury tampering will be argued in the court of appeals here on Monday, February 4, it was announced today.

U. S. Assistant District Attorney Neil Burkinshaw today filed the government's answer to the appeal.

OHIO BOY KILLED BY MOTOR TRUCK

MARTINS FERRY, O., Jan. 31.—James Esper, 8, was dead and an occupant of the truck which ran down and killed him was recovering from injuries here today. The driver of the truck swerved his motor vehicle into a telephone pole trying to avoid the boy.

Owner, occupant or agent of any such building, who, within 10 days after receipt of notice from the sanitary officer, fails to install a vent

KIWANIS CLUB'S HONOR GUEST

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, Steubenville, Republican national committeewoman from Ohio, was the honor guest of the Kiwanis club at a luncheon in the grill room of the Travelers' hotel at noon today. She spoke on "Our Duties to Our Nation."

Woman Asks Larger Army, Navy As War Preventives

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, Steubenville, Republican Committee Member, Speaks on National Defense at Kiwanis Club.

Establishment of a larger army and navy is the best guarantee for war prevention and perpetual peace, Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, Steubenville, Republican national committeewoman and a past state president of the American Legion Women's auxiliary, told 50 members of the Kiwanis club and their guests at a luncheon in the grill room of the Travelers' hotel at noon today.

"There is no more dangerous hour in the history of a nation than when its citizens question a system of self-defense," said Mrs. Clark. "President Coolidge, in his Armistice Day address, said that we needed a larger navy. France has 17 out of 1,000 men under arms; in the United States we have one man in 1,000 in the service. We have fewer men in our standing army than we have police."

Lauds Universal Draft Plan. Mrs. Clark, who is interested in the legislative program of the American Legion, lauded the Legion's proposed universal draft bill providing for the conscription of capital and labor in time of war, which has been before congress for several years.

"When we take the profits out of war, we will have no war," she declared. "The United States has never entered a war for the spoils. We took hold of Cuba and protected her until she was able to protect herself."

"While we cannot decline to sign peace agreements neither can we afford to render ourselves defenseless. We scrapped our modern war vessels when England destroyed her old vessels. Japan's ships existed only on paper when the disarmament agreement was adopted."

Tells of Vet Hospital Visits. Mrs. Clark told of her visits to the Dayton and Chillicothe veterans' hospitals, where she talked with shell-shocked and disabled ex-service men. "Over there is a shrine of white crosses where Catholic sleeps beside Protestant. Jew beside Gentile and black beside white," she said. "We must keep the faith of those who made the supreme sacrifice."

Mrs. Clark was introduced by President H. B. Keys.

CRUISER BILL IS SIDETRACKED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The administration's new cruiser bill, assured of enactment, was sidetracked temporarily in the senate today to permit action on the much delayed independent offices appropriation bill.

The cruiser advocates were not alarmed however, as an agreement limiting debate after Monday will insure enactment of the bill early next week. A poll has shown the bill will be enacted on the final roll-call by an overwhelming vote.

Health Board Orders Ban On Gas Stoves Without Pipes

Resolution is Adopted in City Campaign Against Monoxide Poison. Use of gas heating stoves without vent pipes in stores, offices, assembly rooms and any public building is prohibited in a resolution adopted by the board of health at the meeting in the Meredith building, Diamond, last night.

Owner, occupant or agent of any such building, who, within 10 days after receipt of notice from the sanitary officer, fails to install a vent

SEAMEN GIVE LIVES IN BOLD FIGHT AGAINST $100,000 BLAZE

Hold of President Johnson Burns in Jersey City.

STOVE UPSETS

Passengers on Round-the-world Vessel Escape.

JERSEY CITY, Jan. 31.—

Two members of the crew sacrificed their lives in a bold effort to check the spread of flames and five persons were injured when fire swept the hold of the Dollar liner President Johnson, round-the-world vessel, while the ship was tied up at its pier here today. Loss was estimated at $100,000 by Dollar Line officials who said the ship's departure for Cuba, scheduled for this afternoon, probably would be delayed.

Rescue Fireman from River. First reports to police had declared nine men were suffocated in the fire but a later check-up placed the dead at two.

Several passengers who boarded the ship at Boston were among those to escape. Four firemen have been removed to hospitals suffering from smoke inhalation and a fifth fireman was rescued from the icy river when he became dazed and leaped overboard.

The fire is believed to have started in the machinery room when an oil stove was upset. Members of the crew in the room fought it for a few minutes, then called for help.

Victims Overcome by Fumes. Police reserves blocked all entrances to the pier. Because of the lack of flames many persons passing outside were unaware of the desperate fight for life that was going on deep in the world cruiser which has weathered other tragedies.

Why the victims failed to escape could not be learned. Chief Sweeney expressed the belief that they had remained at their posts and were overcome by the deadly fumes.

Several of the injured escaped by climbing up the inside of a vent. The dead have not been identified. The bodies were removed to an undertaking establishment.

The injured included: A. K. Haysed, junior engineer, San Francisco; Lester Jordan, San Francisco; William Gonzales, San Francisco; John Tarles, San Francisco, and John Louhen, San Francisco.

Chinese Sailors Flee. As the smoke and flames poured out of the vessel, the Chinese members of the crew, 103 in number, rushed to reach the pier in safety.

All efforts to stop them proved futile as they fled over the side and down the gangplank, but once they were on the dock the police rounded them up successfully. When the fire was extinguished they were returned to the ship.

When firemen arrived at the scene after the first alarm they found a stewardess leaning out of an open porthole screaming for help. The flames had reached the door of her stateroom, cutting off her escape.

"Hang on, we'll get you," a fireman shouted and a heavy stream of water was immediately played on the companionway on which the stateroom fronted. She was eventually able to leave through the door of her room.

One body was found in the companionway lying face downward in six inches of water. Another body was found in a washroom.

PLEADS TO SAVE SOCIETY PLAYBOY

COURTROOM, Atlanta, Jan. 31.—One of the south's greatest criminal court lawyers today made ready for the final assault in his battle to save young "Dicky" Gallogly, society's playboy, from the electric chair.

Reuben Arnold—the Clarence Darrow of Georgia—prepared to use all of his wily weapons of persuasion—irony, wit, incentive, pathos and logic—to be approached the final plea for the life of his wealthy client.

Accused of participating in the robbery in which Willard Smith, clerk, was shot and killed. At an early hour the courtroom was jammed by hundreds of spectators eager to hear the eloquence of the noted attorney, associate defense counsel in the famous Leo Frank case, when he seeks to convince the jury that Gallogly is guiltless in the murder to which his school chum, George Harsh, confessed. Harsh, whose confession implicated "Dicky," is already under sentence of death for the crime.

Gas in Stomach Hurts the Heart

Thousands of Cases of Heart Failure Are Caused by Acute Indigestion.

Gas pressure from sour, acid, upset stomach is not only nauseating and highly uncomfortable but some day it may prove fatal!

When your meals are followed by bloating, a feeling of fullness or pressure, shortness of breath and pains around the heart, you may be sure that the acid condition of your stomach is producing a GAS that is pushing upwards and crowding your heart. That's the reason for the shortness of breath and sharp, shooting pains.

Whether young or old, the presence of stomach gas is truly serious and should always be given prompt and careful attention.

To quickly drive out gas, cleanse and sweeten the stomach, neutralize the acidity—nothing is better than the daily or "as needed" use of ordinary Bisurated Magnesia. It gives almost instant relief.

Mathews Medicine Store, or any good druggist can supply Bisurated Magnesia, in powder or tablet form.

You run no risk of loss for every druggist may sell it with the distinct understanding that unless its use gives complete satisfaction the small cost will be promptly returned.—Adv.

AUTO RUNS 59 MILES ON GALLON OF GAS

Automobile engineers who worked for years in an effort to reduce gasoline consumption have found the solution in a marvelous invention that fits all cars. An actual test made by one of the engineers showed 59 miles on a gallon of gas. Thousands of car owners have already installed this new invention. They not only report amazing gas savings, but are also surprised to find quicker pick-up, instant starting, smoother running motors and disappearance of carbon. E. Oliver, 999-1360-131 W. Third St., Milwaukee, Wis., for a limited time is offering a free device to those who will help introduce it. They also need men everywhere to make over $100 weekly in their own territory taking care of local business. Write him at once for free sample and big money making offer.—Adv.

HEALTH TROUBLES QUICKLY ENDED BY NEW KONJOLA

For Years His Condition Resisted Every Effort for Relief—New Medicine Triumphs.

MR. W. L. WOLFORD.
"Konjola was the first and only medicine to touch my case!" How often this expression is heard from those who have found new and glorious health in this master medicine of 32 ingredients. Read what a happy experience Mr. W. L. Wolford, 642 John street, Coshocton, Ohio, had with this super-remedy.
"What Konjola did in my case is little short of miraculous. For years I was a helpless victim of stomach and liver troubles. I had dizzy spells, specks before my eyes, my food did not digest, and my system was filled with poisons. A friend said 'Take Konjola and get well.' But I had lost faith in medicine and prescriptions and treatments; all had failed me. But he insisted that I take Konjola, and I did. It was the first and only medicine that touched my case; the medicine I should have had years ago. In three weeks every trouble had disappeared. I can eat anything; the dizzy spells and black specks are no more, and I am a new man in health, strength and vitality. The man who called Konjola, with its amazing powers, the master medicine certainly knew what he was talking about."
Konjola is sold in East Liverpool, O., at Carnahan drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

ALIQUIPPA MAN, STRUCK BY THROWN POOL BALL, GETS $2,007 DAMAGES

BEAVER, Pa., Jan. 31.—The jury yesterday returned a verdict of $2,007 damages in favor of Peter Sobolak, Aliquippa, against John Blahk, also of Aliquippa, for personal injuries sustained when struck on the jaw by a thrown pool ball.

A verdict of $265 for the plaintiff was returned in the case of William P. Shriver against Stephen Ginn, both of Ambridge, for wages. The defendant failed to appear.

Ralph Bernstein, of the Rochester Fixture company of Pittsburgh, is the plaintiff in the case involving $1,400 for rent due on a building occupied by Abraham, Samuel and John Joseph, Aliquippa, which is being tried before Judge Frank E. Reader today.

Respect For The Flag

As part of its Americanization program, East Liverpool Post, No. 4, American Legion, has arranged for the distribution of 3,500 copies of the Flag code adopted by the National Flag conference in Washington, D. C., June 14-15, 1923, and endorsed by the second conference a year later. These pamphlets, which tell how to display the Stars and Stripes, will be placed in the hands of the public and parochial school children during February, when the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington are observed.

Through this plan the Legion hopes to carry into every home in East Liverpool certain fundamental rules of heraldry indicative of the proper method of displaying the flag, which represents a living country and is itself considered a living thing.

As every citizen should know, the flag should be displayed only from the sunrise to sunset and should fly from every flagpole ever, day, weather permitting, but especially on all national and state holidays and on historic and special occasions, the code suggests.

The pamphlet, which is illustrated, lists points to bear in mind in paying homage to the colors. Among the cautions stressed are the following:

Do not dip the flag of the United States of America to any person or any thing. The regimental color, state flag, organization or institutional flag will render this honor.

Do not place any other flag or pennant above or, if on the same level, to the right of the flag of the United States of America.

Do not use the flag as drapery in any form whatsoever. Use bunting of blue, white and red.

Do not drape the flag over the hood, top, sides or back of a vehicle, or of a railway train or boat. When the flag is displayed on a motor car, the staff should be affixed firmly to the chassis, or clamped to the radiator cap.

The code should be read and the suggestions heeded by every American citizen, for the flag is the symbol of liberty and we should learn to love it.

Air Lawlessness

Regulations for sky travelers—which eventually may result in international treaties guarding against aerial bootlegging and hijacking and aerial smuggling of aliens—are nearing completion.

Since the passage of the Air Commerce act of 1926, which provided for the formation of rules governing the arrival of aircraft passengers from foreign ports, scores of conferences have been held by officials of the Commerce, Labor and Treasury departments.

The heads of these three arms of the government are charged with formulating the rules and they are about ready to promulgate definite recommendations.

Public health department officials have finished their part of the survey and suggest less vigorous restrictions. They believe that waiving the requirement for a bill of health from all persons entering the country by plane might help. This measure has been in effect since 1920.

It has been found that few possibilities exist for transmitting contagious diseases in such manner. The smallness of air passenger lists and the probability that there will be no air steerage class for many years to come remove virtually all health hazards from that source, it is said.

Customers and immigration officials, however, have a far different and a more complex problem with which to deal, and many think the only solution lies in international treaties.

Few effective existing bars are seen against smuggling diamonds and aliens in by air.

And if aerial smuggling and bootlegging develops to any considerable extent, aerial hijacking is envisioned as being not far behind.

Holland's Big Job

When Japan rears too many children she sets forth to conquer new provinces for their homes. Italy and France look across the Mediterranean for room to spread out. Spain and Portugal find an outlet in the wide stretches of South America. Now when Holland desires future homes for her overflow she takes up the cudgel against Father Neptune.

Windmills and dykes have ever been associated with the little kingdom. Conquering the sea is no new affair with the Dutch. The sea has always been the bitter enemy gnawing away forever at the ramparts which protect their fertile acres; at times too, their kindest friend, when by cutting the dykes, the threatening enemy has had to make a hasty get-away.

Who does not remember the Zuider Zee, the bay which cuts deep into Holland? The Dutch have looked with longing eyes for many years at smiling farms which could be carved from the shallow parts. As long ago as 1886 the government set up a commission to study the possibilities and propose a course of action. After long study this body made recommendations which, by the aid of a guided public opinion, became a national project. The plan called for a gradual conquest to cover a period of 40 years.

At the present time work is well under way on two sections of the task. Within two years they will be completed and 5,500 families provided with farms.

The task is a tremendous one, comparable to the digging of the Suez or Panama Canals or the reclaiming of the Mississippi valley. This is, indeed, the type of national conquest against which no voice can be raised.

Good news for psychiatrists: One out of every 225 person in New York state is crazy, and similar conditions exist in other states, according to an Empire state charities aid association officer.

Surely the Rockefeller-Stewart fight has nothing to do with the gasoline price war in East Liverpool.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 31.—The most conservative banking institution in the world, the Bank of England, has startled bankers, business men, statesmen, and economists everywhere by suddenly giving increased publicity to its affairs. In all probability this change in attitude is due to the American business influence which gradually is permeating British affairs.

To Americans the fact that a bank of semi-public character should go on year after year, transacting the business of the financial community as well as the finances of the state, seems almost inexplicable. When our own federal reserve act was written it was provided that each federal reserve bank should publish each week a full statement revealing its precise condition—capital, surplus, volume of loans and discounts, acceptances, deposits, notes outstanding, and all other information. This has been done regularly and most daily newspapers publish the figures. No one in the country can complain that he does not know where the federal reserve system stands.

Also, national banks are required by the comptroller of the currency to make periodical publications of the details of their condition. In like manner, the banking commissioners of the several states require reports from state-chartered institutions.

There is one conspicuous exception in the United States, especially conspicuous because of the world-wide fame of the institution. The banking house of J. P. Morgan has never published a statement of its condition and there is no law existing which requires it to do so. It is not a national bank, nor is it a state bank. Neither the federal government nor any state government has the right, under existing law, to examine it or require a publication of its accounts. It is a purely private business. None but a few officers of the bank knows what its deposits are or the amount of its loans and discounts. No one has the right to demand a statement of account from J. P. Morgan any more than he would have the right to accost a stranger on the street and demand to know how much money he had in his pocket, how much in his bank account, and what property he owned, what debts he owed.

That was the situation of the Old Lady of Threadneedle Street, a term of endearment used in London to denote the Bank of England, until 1833. In that year parliament required that the Bank of England provide the chancellor of the exchequer with a weekly statement of certain items and that the chancellor should publish the statement every three months in the London Gazette.

The parliament which passed the act requiring this publication apparently was not made up very largely of bankers, for the items specified, while important, were by no means complete. In fact only four items were called for and only four furnished, to wit, the circulation, deposits, securities, and bullion. And the two former items constituting the liabilities and the latter two constituting the assets did not balance. The Bank of England actually was solvent, capital and surplus and many other items being left wholly out of the statement, merely because they had not been called for.

It is an interesting speculation as to whether the 1833 act of parliament requiring this first publication of an inkling of the Bank of England's position was not prompted by American experience. It will be recalled that at precisely this time Andrew Jackson, as president of the United States, was in the midst of his struggle with the Bank of the United States which, it was charged, tried to dictate to congress and otherwise overshadow by the financial power, the course of government.

Before long it was realized that the meager report published quarterly regarding the Bank of England did not help any one very much. So in 1844 a new act was passed requiring weekly publication but leaving to the bank itself, to a considerable extent, the choice of what items it should make public. Up to 1878 the reports were fairly good, although still meager, but from that date the bank discontinued reporting the amount of bankers' balances held and the volume of temporary accommodations—two highly important items. In other words, the bank stopped telling how much money it had on deposit to insure its solidity and how much money it had lent.

Even now the report does not give one-tenth the information the federal reserve banks of the United States give to the public each week.

England is a conservative nation and the Bank of England the most conservative of English institutions. The reason for the long reticence of the Bank of England was the belief that the country would be far better off if the public did not know the ups and downs of the bank. Speculation would be encouraged by frequent reports. At periods when the bank was in a strained condition, general public knowledge might bring about a financial situation highly subservient to the solvency of the institution whereas, if nobody were alarmed, the period would be tided over. Again, if it were shown that the bank were in an extraordinarily good condition, an unwarranted boom might be started.

Questions And Answers

By Frederic J. Haskin.

Many readers send in questions signed only with initials, asking that the answers appear in the newspaper. The space is limited and would not accommodate a fraction of such requests. The answers published are ones that may interest many readers, rather than the one who asks the question only. All questions should be accompanied by the writer's name and address and two cents in coin or stamps for reply. Send your question to the East Liverpool Review Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. What is the age limit for players on boys' baseball teams in the Junior World Series championship conducted by the American Legion? L. M.

A. Boys under 17 years of age are eligible for the teams. They must have their 17th birthday not earlier than September 15, 1929, if they are to play in the championship series this year.

Q. Where are most of the mushrooms canned in this country? J. J. K.

A. Most of them are canned in the state of Pennsylvania.

Q. What fraternity recently received a memorial gift from Joyce Kilmer's mother? W. G.

A. The gift of a window to the Delta Upsilon Fraternity Chapter House at Rutgers University by Mrs. Annie Kilmer in memory of her son, Joyce Kilmer, of the class of '08, was announced recently.

Q. What class are the smallest post offices? E. McA.

A. Fourth class post offices are the smallest. Compensation for fourth class post offices ranges from $67 to $100 a year.

Q. What was the religion of the Pilgrims? F. H. B.

A. The Pilgrims were Separatists. This body of religious asserted the right of each church or congregation to adopt its own form of worship, and choose its own preachers and officers.

East Liverpool Review Offers to Its Readers A Baking Booklet

Can you make good pie crust? Very few people can. Have you ever tried to make Parker House rolls?

There isn't any trick in making these things perfectly. The Department of Agriculture has published a booklet which makes it possible for any one.

This baking book is a government publication, and our Washington Bureau will secure a copy for any one who sends four cents in coin or stamps for return postage and handling. In filling out the coupon be sure to write your name and address clearly.

Frederic J. Haskin, Director, The East Liverpool Review, Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—The same thing has happened to night life in Montmartre that happened along Broadway a while back. It doesn't tick any more. Even the Royal Box at Zelli's in rue Fontaine is deserted. Of course, it is the full season, but even so the cabaret business was never in such doldrums.

Only a handful may be found nightly in such haunts as Perroquet, Florida, Embassy and the Plantation. The biggest play seems to be in the Blue Room where Billy Reardon ringmasters the hoop-la. Pepe de Albrow is dancing at Perroquet. He is the ex-husband of Wilda Bennett, if that means anything.

Nocturnal gaiety centers around Ciro's, where the creme de la creme of tourists gather for 9:30 dinner, dance a little, depart before midnight and arise early to see if they are listed "among those dining at Ciro's last evening" in the Herald's society news.

Montmartre, like Broadway, merely overplayed its hand, and the debacle was inevitable. Snickers grew tired of split lead pencil additions. This, for example, is what happened to us in a rue du Clinchy sin parlor last night. There were six in the party. With exception of myself perhaps, none looked like a Rotarian on the loose.

All had been places and done things, yet at each plate was a bottle of inferior champagne at superior prices. None was in a champagne humor, yet the management refused to remove it. There was a $1 covert charge, although there was no music until midnight, when we made our bow out.

A succession of annoying pests tried to sell us long-legged French dolls, Spanish lottery tickets, perfume and tickets to a restaurant waiter's ball, held last summer. In addition two scented gigolos sought to dance with the ladies at 20 francs per dance. And 3 "hostesses" sat uninvited at the table, ordering copious drinks.

To complete a terrible night out, taxis in front refused to carry us to our hotels unless assured triple the meter tariff. And while we wrangled, a group of impertinent cadgers surrounded us in a threatening manner. I never so longed for carpet slippers, a pitcher of sassafras tea and one of those evenings at home humming old songs.

On our way home we stopped in at another bazaar to pick up—you do that literally as a rule after midnight here—some friends. And it was here I ran across what is to my notion the stupidest waiter in the world. A matron and a gigolo sat at one of the tables. The waiter handed the check to the gigolo. Juggle that one!

One of the new hotels offers the dancier cri in service. At each bedside is an electrical push button. If one desires to know the time in the dead of night, the button is pushed and a light shines over the face of the clock on the opposite wall. It takes a Frenchman to think up a silly like that.

The worker here is paid little and consequently works little. But there is a consolation. He rarely loses his job. At a hotel where I have been stopping for ten years I know of only one change in the personnel. A telephone boy in the bar is missing, but did not lose his job. He was conscripted for service in the army. Year after year, one sees the same doormen, the same clerks, the same managers, and some upturned palms. Seemingly there are no promotions. When one takes a job it becomes, such as it is, a lifetime career.

And young and beautiful French salesgirls who marry do not resign their positions. This is a part of the highly advertised French thrift. The wife works on, but does not support herself. Her wages go into the point fund for a home—the heart's desire of every married couple.

I stopped in at the postoffice in rue Cambon this morning for a few timbers—gradually I'm forgetting all the English I used to know. The postoffice was no different from that of Plattsburg, Mo. A group of gossipers were warning themselves around a coal stove. There was a sawdust box for long range spitters. A clerk in gartered shirt sleeves waited on me, and all of a sudden the place was deserted to see a lively dog fight out front.

And unless one has tried to write with a pen in a French postoffice one has really never known exasperation. The same effect can be had trying to write with a string or something.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

From time to time one of my readers begs for an article on some particular subject. I try to respond to every such appeal, but there are so many things to talk about that it isn't easy to cover all the ailments.

As a matter of fact, I am not interested in diseases nearly as much as I am in such modes of living as will prevent the development of diseases. To live such a life that you can snap your finger at disease, is much better and wiser than to spend a lifetime in getting rid of an ailment.

There are many disorders of the body. When one of them appears it is natural for the patient and his friends to ask a lot of questions. They are eager to know all about the nature of the particular ailment. In the presence of the family doctor the patient and family may be timid or forgetful. After the physician has hurried on to his next charge, all unite in expressing regret that they forgot to ask questions.

Knowledge of the common diseases and much about the human ailments, too, should be included in the education of the masses. Knowledge is power, it is said, and I am confident knowledge of the causes and nature of disease is an incentive to its avoidance.

But I started to tell you about a certain disease of the nervous system. This is known to the doctors as "sclerosis" or "multiple sclerosis." That you may understand it, I must tell you something about how the brain and spinal cord are made. They are constructed of soft and tender material. This substance is held in place by a firmer supporting tissue, called the "neuroglia." My scientific friends will laugh at the comparison I am about to make, but it will serve a useful purpose if it makes clear to the lay mind the underlying changes which take place in certain diseases of the brain and spinal cord.

The neuroglia may be likened to the waxy cells of the comb which enclose and contain the honey. If the cell walls should thicken materially, the cells would be restricted, the cell space would be lessened and of course this would reduce the quantity of honey it could hold.

In sclerosis, in which there is hardening of the nerve tissue, the neuroglia is so increased that the brain and nerve cells are squeezed and hardened. In consequence, the nerves which arise in these particular cells are rendered more or less useless.

In multiple or disseminated sclerosis, this condition is found here or there, in more than one spot. There are patches scattered throughout the brain and nervous system.

Just what will happen to the victim depends on what part or parts of the nervous system may be involved. The sight, speech, muscles, power to walk, and the various special senses may be affected. Twitching of the eyeballs is a common symptom.

The disease is not inherited, although several members of the same family may be subject to the same exciting cause and in consequence may suffer alike. Scarlet fever and other infectious diseases, as well as injuries to the brain and cord may be causes.

It is an obstinate and chronic disease. Its development is very slow.

Building a Modern Wonder.

It is not difficult to imagine the amazement with which those slaves of ancient Rome who labored so long and suffered so cruelly to build the Appian Way in 312 B. C., would view the array of road-building machinery on display at the annual exposition of the American Road-Building Association in Cleveland this week. Here are devices that could accomplish in an hour what it required 1,000 slaves a year to do, back in those days.

And what an eye-opener the exposition would be to the man who aroiled the incredulity of Europe in 1854, when he laid the first asphalt paving in Threadneedle street, London. What was a gigantic task then would be mere play for the modern contractor, and probably would take no more than two days.

The rapid development of wonder-inspiring machinery for road-building began with the advent of the automobile. The motor car and the old-time dirt road simply were incompatible. When it became apparent that motor-driven vehicles were to assume a position of utmost importance in modern civilization, the engineering genius of the world centered its attention upon building of adequate highways.

The Cleveland exhibit is an inspiring revelation of the enormous progress made in this new science in the past few years. The display of machinery, exceeding $5,000,000 in value, includes devices to perform every task of road-building, from the giant paving machines that have supplanted the shovel to delicate instruments that record the slightest variation in the level surface of the finished highway.

From the prairie schooner to the trans-continental sleeper bus is a long stride, but engineering genius has made it with ease, and America's contribution to this vital need of the new era remains the most important in the world.—Columbus Dispatch.

A Voice Out of the Past.

"War, mademoiselle, is an ethnological law which only the Divine Power can intervene." It is an old and broken man who speaks, leaning heavily on a cane and looking into space as though he lived wholly in the past. Broken in health, yes, and stipped of the pomp and power that once were his—but Wilhelm II, maintains intact the spirit that made Germany the arbiter of continental Europe for three-quarters of a century.

It is pointless to visualize this tired figure as a menace to civilization; indeed, it is rather absurd to lay upon his shoulders solely the blame for the horrible catastrophe of 1914-1918. For the kaiser was but an instrument of the European international system. He remains a poignant embodiment of the ideals of the armed camp that was Europe in the years before the war. In complete seclusion he lives in the memories of his one-time greatness, and in his dreams of what might have been.

And his belief in the inevitable of war is the central idea of that age. Only one who recognizes the wide distribution of that belief can we interpret intelligently the events leading up to that struggle to the death that broke upon the world in 1918. The former kaiser's emergence from his decade of silence and his pronouncement of the divine nature of war may well lead us to a moment of introspection. Is not the fallacy that dominated the kaiser's thinking still with us?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Capt. George Fried, heroic rescuer, says: "Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet."

"AN S. O. S. from the 'Florida'! We change our course. We on the 'America' strain to arrive in time to rescue the men on their sinking ship, 350 miles away. Through the icy, freezing storm and high seas we plunge on—all speed ahead! Then the night-time rescue, the search lights, the whirling waves, the manoeuvring to get near the 'Florida'. Finally, the 'Florida's' crew coming off one at a time, pulling themselves through the water on the line our men had thrown them.

"These 32 men, dazed, many half clothed, needed reviving after their long exposure. Hot coffee, food and Lucky Strikes—these gave new life to many of them and we on board the 'America,' crew and passengers alike, found after the strain and struggle that there was nothing quite so comforting and relaxing as the inviting, toasted flavor of Lucky Strikes.

"Playing this game with 'Davy' is ever fascinating, ever thrilling. And we who follow the sea must be ever ready for adventure. Ours is an active life, demanding nerve control and physical fitness. In my health program I have found that Luckies are most important not only because they provide a respite for frazzled nerves and an exhausted body but because whenever I crave anything which is over-fattening, I say to myself, 'Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet'. In the toasted flavor of Luckies, I get complete satisfaction. And I find that toasting, by removing the irritants, protects my throat."

Methodist Pastor Names Seven Deadly Sins of Society

CHICAGO. — Here are the seven "deadly sins" of society as outlined by Dr. E. Stanley Jones speaking before the Methodist Episcopal World service conference:—

Policies without principles; wealth without work; pleasure without conscience; knowledge without character; commerce and industry without morality; science without humanity; worship without sacrifice.

Dr. Stanley declared religious worship without sacrifice was a Christianity without a cross.

Just use the soap that gets clothes whiter!

WHAT a difference Rinso suds make in the dishpan! Thick, creamy suds even in the hardest water. Grease and food particles soak away in a flash. A hot rinse, and dishes dry clear and bright without wiping.

Cupful for cupful this compact, granulated, hard-water soap goes twice as far as lightweight, puffed-up soaps. So economical. Millions use it on wash-day for whiter clothes without scrubbing or boiling.

Get the BIG package of Rinso and follow easy directions on the box. Try it for walls, floors, woodwork, porcelain and all cleaning. Saves work!

Don't let Rheumatism make an invalid of you. S.S.S. stands ready to knock it out.

THOSE muscular pains, commonly called rheumatism, are generally due to a run-down condition, with the number of red-blood-cells below the normal count.

S.S.S. aids the system in building up these red-blood-cells and in getting rid of the condition of which the rheumatism is but a symptom. The body becomes strong and disease-resistant, and the rheumatic pains go.

Pains in your muscles and joints make you miserable, less efficient, interfere with your working hours, ruin your sleep. If allowed to continue, as the years pass the danger increases.

But what a change with rich, red-blood-cells in your body—Nature's building material—making the flesh firm—giving strength to the vital organs.

You can't rub rheumatism out. It is deeper than that. And the sure way is by helping the fighting blood—the red-blood-cells!

Increase your army of "workers" (red-blood-cells), and those muscle and joint pains, commonly called rheumatism, vanish. S.S.S. has brought this change about for thousands. Why not for you?

J. B. Mays, 40, Plunges
10 Feet From Sidewalk
To Door of Room.

CHESTER, W. Va., Jan. 31.—Coroner George A. Arner, of Chester, last night returned a verdict of "accidental death," in the case of J. B. Mays, 40, colored, who was found dead in a cell in the Weirton police station yesterday where he had been taken after falling down a flight of stairs as he was about to enter his room in Avenue A.

Mays, who was employed by the Weirton Steel company, was said by police to have plunged headlong 10 feet from the sidewalk to the door of his room.

An autopsy showed that death had been caused by concussion of the brain.

NANCY CARROLL SCORES TRIUMPH

Stepping along on her own two dainty little feet, is Nancy Carroll, the latest bit of piquant personality to grace the screen. Her latest picture, in which she is co-starred with Gary Cooper, "The Shopworn Angel," at its opening today at the Cerrito theater, where it will play for three days, was a new triumph for Nancy Carroll.

Nancy Carroll has everything. She is a delight to watch. The life and action in her portrayal, the absorbing personality and the charm of her presence provides all the entertainment one needs for one afternoon or evening. But then there's Gary Cooper. Cooper has "that" which, for men actors, is the same thing as "it" for women actors. He has proved it in many strong parts but, in no one of his pictures, has he excelled so completely as in "The Shopworn Angel." "The Shopworn Angel" is a tender love story of a boy, shy, bashful, honest, and a girl, gay, giddy, charming and true. It is a pathetic story played against the bright background of Broadway. It is a glittering piece of romanticism, a thrilling tangle of circumstances in which a clean-minded young man and a re-awakened girl are swirled helplessly.

PRIZE RING ROAR IN STATE BILL

The gong! . . . the huge arena hushes with a seething of feet in the semi-darkness. Here and there the glow of a cigaret stabs the murk. Telegraph instruments click impatiently. All eyes focus upon the white glare that picks out the squared ring . . . a flash of two huge bulks. Gleaming muscles. "Knock him out—get him!" comes the throaty shout of ten thousand fans, frenzied with the fever of conflict. . . .

You will feel like shouting, too, when you see the thrilling fight scenes in "Beat Broadway," at the State theater, beginning today.

For in this new Lew Cody-Alleen Pringle production the most spectacular boxing bout ever presented on the screen has been filmed by Malcolm St. Clair, the Tex Rickard of motion pictures.

Hugh Trevor, who plays the part of the handsome young boxer, was trained for many weeks for the role under the advice of such fighters as Armand Emanuel, heavyweight sen-

REV. J. M. HUFF QUIT RAILROAD CAB TO PREACH

Illinois Evangelist Tells Story of Conversion.

NAZARENE MEET

R. T. Eby, Soloist,
Sings "Gospel Train."

To an audience that jammed all sections of the Nazarene church in Chester, the Rev. J. M. Huff, Olivet, Ill., evangelist and former Pennsylvania railway engineer gave a realistic account of his own conversion last night as he discussed the theme: "From Locomotive Cab to the Pulpit."

In deference to his former activity upon the rails a large delegation of railroad men attended the service. Many at the conclusion of his address wended their way to the platform to grasp the speaker by the hand in token of appreciation and the wish that they be included in his prayers.

In the afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Huff spoke at a meeting held for juniors in which some 20 took the step indicating conversion.

In further deference to the railway aspect of the assemblage, R. E. Eby, soloist, accompanied by Miss Opal Huff, sang "The Gospel Train."

Sermon Subject Tonight.

The Rev. Mr. Huff based his talk on the 35th chapter of the prophecy of Isaiah. He announced that he would speak tonight on the subject: "Jonah and the Whale."

He said that he was born in Indian Springs, Ind., in July of 1881 and was dedicated at birth by his mother to preach. She lived but nine months thereafter. In 1896, at 14, he was converted and felt the call to preach, but disregarded it.

He became a railroad employee and, he said, "followed worldly habits." He told of an occasion when, in a card game, one of the participants, discovered in dishonesty, drew a gun and murder almost ensued.

Served 11 Years on Railroads.

He was married and was reclaimed into the church. He kept up his railway career and as a Christian workman was instrumental in causing many of his associates to go right and live upright lives.

Finally, in 1914, after 11 years on railroads, he gave way to the constant impulse to preach. He served numerous pastorates and finally some sation, and "Mushy" Callahan, junior welterweight champion.

And as his opponent in the grueling cinema battle is Ernie Owens, prominent heavyweight contender.

"FLYING FLEET"
AT AMERICAN

Thrills of naval aviation form a spectacular background for "The Flying Fleet," Ramon Navarro's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle now playing at the American theater, with sound synchronization. Navarro plays a young flying officer in a vivid drama of the air men of the sea. Sensational reviews, battle practice, a rescue at sea with a burning airplane as a beacon, and other sensational evolutions, with hundreds of navy planes in the air, are among the thrills.

Most of the picture was filmed in the air and aboard the navy's great airplane carrier ship.

George Hill, director of "Tell It to the Marines" and "The Cossacks," directed the new production, in which a notable cast appears. Anita Page, noted for her work in "Telling the World," "While the City Sleeps" and other plays, is the heroine, and Gardner James, famous in "Hell Bent for Heaven," Ralph Graves, hero of "Blarney," Eddie Nugent, Carroll Nye, Summer Getchell and many others of note are in the cast.

The navy's famous "suicide squadron" stages sensational stunts in the air for the picture, and many famous navy aviators are seen in the air "shots."

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Social Affairs

MRS. DALE D. THOMPSON, secretary of the Federation of Women's clubs, received members of the city clubs in her home at Walnut and East Third streets, yesterday afternoon, at a musical and tea. The home was decorated with roses and tulips. Mrs. Thompson was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Thomas H. Fisher, of the Travelers' club.

The musical program, arranged by Mrs. Homer J. Taylor, was as follows: Two original piano numbers, Mrs. J. O. Heddleston; vocal solos, (a) "Song of the Soul"; (b) "Trees," Miss Ethel Peterson, accompanied by Mrs. Harold Downard.

A short business session was conducted by the vice-president of the Federation, Mrs. Maude McMurray.

Tea was served, Mesdames C. R. Boyce and J. Donald Thompson pouring. The table was decorated with tapers and flowers. Forty guests were present.

The committee in charge of the tea included Mesdames T. H. Fisher, J. T. Carey and H. B. Keys. Mrs. A. J. Savage is president of the Federation.

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made of the marriage of Miss Lena M. Cozart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Cozart, of Lincoln avenue, and John Metzgar of Salem, a former resident of Wellsville. The ceremony was performed Monday in the Presbyterian church in Lisbon, with the Rev. Jarvis M. Cotton officiating. The bridegroom is employed in Salem, where they will live.

BETWEEN BYOU AND ME

Young men who begin where their fathers leave off usually leave off where their fathers began.

SWEET SIXTEEN AND NEVER BEEN—told about the interesting line of frocks at LEMMER'S known as the "Sweet Sixteen's"? Then a pleasant surprise awaits you ladies who dress well on slender incomes. Here's another happy thought also... you can be "way past sixteen" in years and size and still know the joy of wearing one of those popular dresses—as they come in a range of sizes in every conceivable shade. One has a fluted Jabot and a sparkling pin... another boasts a wide scarf springing from its diagonal neckline and a skirt which balances its drapes with a soft hip-bow... each dress carries that touch of the "unusual" in its design. These dresses have all taken a very low price today to make room at once for newer merchandise. By all means ask to see the charming "Four-leaf-clover" if it hasn't walked out already... Mrs. Lemmer goes to New York the first of the week so next Thursday this column hopes to have something piping hot from the Metropolis.

THIS ONE QUESTION! If you should hear the terrible news shortly after you leave for work in the morning that your house was ablaze—where would your thoughts travel first? Of course, you'd be frantic 'til you knew that the family was safely out of danger—the next instant you would suddenly realize that your insurance doesn't begin to cover the loss. Why not consult the Lee C. Cooper Agency, and be advised on this very important question of Fire Insurance?

"I wish I had known that sooner." Never a day passes but some one says those same words. One person said them yesterday in the corset department at Ogilvie's—after becoming acquainted with the Camp Physiological Belt which is being so heartily endorsed by physicians and surgeons everywhere. For many years S. H. Camp & Co. have been designers and manufacturers of a successful system of "corsetry" which has greatly relieved human suffering and has contributed generously to the bodily comfort of men, women and children. Even though you have no immediate need of a mechanical support you will not want to remain unfamiliar with its many advantages. Then you can pass the good news along.

There seems to be just two important things a woman wants to know about a Radio. Is it beautifully encased to harmonize with the rest of her furniture and will it give satisfactory service? Both of these important features are combined to a high degree in the new Radiola. There are many other important features to this beautiful instrument but I will not attempt to recite them all. An invitation is extended you by the Smith-Phillips Music company to visit their store and see and hear it.

GREEN PROMISES TO BE ONE of Spring's choice colors. If you are planning a costume in this popular shade you will want to complete it with a pair of smart-looking green shoes. Bendheim's have just such a pair in their display window. They were $10 but they and a number of others have been pleasingly reduced in price.

Tommy chooses the arm of the fire-side chair to park his wad of Spearmint—for future reference... sister drops a little dab of whipped cream on her newest frock... aggravating incidents, "I admit but ones that can easily be remedied, providing you have CENOL in the house... a preparation which removes unsightly spots without leaving any trace whatever. You can obtain it at your nearest Caranahan Drug Store. The price? Only 35c.

LAST WEEK I TOLD YOU of Milliron's Filling Station (Second and Wash. streets) handling Penna. and Mid-Continent oils. While the service man was putting 6 quarts of Mid-Continent in my machine the National Biscuit Co.'s truck drove up... driver said, "My battery is down, please have it charged and give me one that is up-for use in the meantime." In less than a jiffy he was on his way. I find they service most everything pertaining to an automobile... at Milliron's.

A SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY—(if you're a far-seeing person)—to have the family's wardrobe thoroughly renovated and pressed into first-class shape. During the month of February Jones and Bailey are offering substantial reductions on their cleaning prices. Any garment, cleaned by their methods will re-capture all the charm of the first time it was worn.

THIS IS THE TIME OF THE YEAR when the scalp needs some extra attention in the way of special treatments to give your hair the health and beauty you desire. Stern Beauty Shoppe employs a method of massage and treatment that is delighting scores of their patrons. Your permanent will be much more satisfactory if preceded by these treatments. Memorize their number, Main 559.

BEAU BROADWAY will be shown on the screen of the State the last half of the week... featuring Lew Cody and Aileen Pringle. Also there will be three clever Vaudeville Acts... At the American Theater Raymond Novarro is being starred in "The Flying Fleet," Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

IF YOU ARE PLANNING YOUR SPRING WARDROBE within the confining walls of a budget (and you can't "budget" one bit further), I'll tell you where you can buy two dresses at the price of one. Moyer's Upstairs Store have some new Spring dresses, very smartly styled in the most popular shades... at the surprisingly low price of $9.00. The Junior dresses are chic little models—cleverly combining plain and colorful prints in the most pleasing effects... none prettier than the other. They lose none of their charm as they travel from sizes 16 to 20 for Misses to the Womens' sizes, ranging from 36 to 44. You must really see these dresses to appreciate the splendid quality of the materials, and the neatness of their tailoring. You'll wonder, more than ever, how they can be sold at such a figure.

LIMA EDITOR GIVEN STATE LIBRARY POST

George E. McCormick
Choice of Three Trustees.

$5,000 POSITION

Percy Tetlow, Jr., and
Thomas Devine
Get Places.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 31.—Appoint- ment of George E. McCormick, Lima editor, as state librarian; Attorney Percy Tetlow, Jr., Columbus, as re- feree of claims, state industrial de- partment, and Thomas Devine, Toledo as chief of the division of work- shops and factories, in the same de- partment, was made today at the offices of Governor Myers Y. Cooper.

McCormick, endorsed by the govern- or, was chosen by state library board of trustees through the votes of Di- rector of Education John L. Clifton, Earl R. Leach, another Lima editor, and Lank M. Smith, Bucyrus, a former publisher, all Democrats.

As librarian, McCormick will re- ceive $5,000 a year. He is a former city editor of the Marion, O., Star. McCormick will succeed C. B. Gal- breath, Columbus, secretary of the Ohio archæological and historical society, who, since July, 1927, served without pay as state librarian, fol- lowing the veto by former Governor Vic Donahey of the appropriation made two years ago by the legislature for the state library.

Tetlow is a son of Capt. Percy Tet- low, Columbiana county, former state legislator and former state director of industrial relations. He succeeds Ross Hedges, Columbus, recently pro- moted to assistant director.

Devine succeeds C. A. Benedict, al- so of Toledo.

OHIO IN PATH OF COLD WAVE

Blizzard Will Hit Western Part of State
Tonight.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 31.—Western and northwestern Ohio will feel by tonight the effects of the blizzard, which today is holding in its grip the middle west, according to data pre- pared by the U. S. weather bureau here. The cold wave is due to reach Ohio late this afternoon, forcing tem- peratures down to near zero, it was predicted.

As the blizzard sweeps across the state, it will lose its force and by the time it strikes the eastern section will have only snow flurries to show that it has arrived. The weather bu- reau would not be specific on that prediction, however, stating that an- other snow storm now local in Canada may "take legs" and sweep south.

Although there was heavy snowfall reported locally last night, it was not general over the state. The central section of Ohio appears today to be the worst sufferer from snow and ul- tra cold temperatures.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—The north- ern tier of states of the middle west to- day are buried under the deepest snow in 20 years, according to reports received here. The whole coun- try-side resembles an arctic waste.

Railroads are fighting to keep main lines open. Trains from the Pacific Northwest reached here from five to eight hours late. Passengers today gave accounts of seeing snow piled as high as telegraph poles along the right of way.

Automobile and bus traffic through- out this section has practically ceased.

More than $150,000 was raised by public subscription for dependants of the lifeboatmen of Rye, England, who recently lost their lives while trying to rescue others.

LEBOEUF HANGING STAY IS DENIED

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 31.—The federal district court today refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus to stay the execution of Mrs. Ada Bonner Le- boeuf and her sweetheart, Dr. T. E. Dreher, condemned to die on the scaf- fold at Franklin tomorrow for the murder of the woman's husband, James L. Leboeuf.

DEATH ROLL

Flora Belle Masters
Flora Belle, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver P. Masters, died today in her home in Newell Heights from ap- pocaliptic meningitis.

Besides her parents, she leaves one sister, Norma.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Newell Nazarene church, in charge of the Rev. F. F. Freese. Burial will be made in Locust Hill ceme- tery.

Annual Reports Submitted.
The annual reports of Health Com- missioner Dr. Edward Miskall showed 2,016 complaints answered by the san- itary officers, 3,275 telephone calls received and 903 sewer and 5,573 food inspections made. There were 176 car loads of meat and 51 carloads of produce inspected, 808 pounds of meat and poultry being condemned.

There were 280 samples of milk and 28 samples of ice cream and seven samples of water collected; 75 dairy farms inspected; 62 orders for dairy- barn cleanups issued and six dairy- men suspended for failure to obey clean-up orders. Approximately 175 food handlers' permits and 375 milk, meat and fish permits were issued. Twenty prosecutions for violation of health rules were reported.

The vital statistics report showed 286 deaths and 506 births. Contagious and communicable diseases included 39 cases of scarlet fever, 14 of diph- theria, 26 of tuberculosis and 10 of measles. There were 63 quarantines established. The health commissioner made 120 visits and the nurse 54 visits to homes of persons suffering from communicable and contagious diseases.

Clinic Patients Total 2,438.
During the year 2,438 visits for treatment were made by clinic pa- tients.

Report of the public health nurse showed 118 medical, 60 surgical, 21 pre natal, 60 birth, 54 new baby and 51 tuberculosis cases handled.

In a pre-school clinic last summer, 181 children were examined. The school nurse said that less than five per cent of the children have been vaccinated against smallpox and less than one per cent against diphtheria.

Twenty-three persons took Pasteur treatments to guard against rabies. Heads of 15 dogs were sent to the state laboratory, eight of them show- ing symptoms of rabies.

Duke of Gloucester to Wed.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The Daily News states that the engagement of the Duke of Gloucester, third son of King George, to Lady Angela Scott, young- est daughter of the Duke of Buccleugh, will be announced as soon as his maj- esty becomes fully convalescent.

The Duke of Buccleugh is a Scottish peer. Lady Angela is 23, a pretty brunette and a lover of horses and outdoor life. The Duke of Gloucester will be 29, March 31 next.

Buckley Trial

handed the witness. He identified them and stated that one meant the Jackson Brewery company was to be inspected by federal officers. This wire was dated Chattanooga, Tenn.

"Brief will not be examined," which occurred in another telegram was ex- plained by Schrimper as meaning, "breweries will not be examined."

Brumbaugh Cross-Examined.
The trend of questioning indicated the government was attempting to prove that Buckley actually had tipped Schrimper as to when the brewer- ies were to be raided. He explained that in all cases where the word "brief" occurred it meant "breweries."

Schrimper testified he received an extract from Buckley's expense ac- count which credited J. L. Schrimper with $250. On this was the notation: "Thought you might want this."

Mau then turned the witness over to Brumbaugh for cross examination. Schrimper refused to answer the first question for him: "Do you expect leniency for your testimony?"

Cross examinations brought out the fact that while he was an attorney he had only practiced "off and on" for 10 years. Schrimper admitted he came to Columbus "ready to spend some money" to save the permit of the Jackson Brewery company and to save Sperber.

On Stand 90 Minutes

Until that time he knew Buckley "only casually" and stated he se- cured his interview with the treas- urer through a "John Baker" of Day- ton.

Schrimper went to Harry Silver when he first came to the city on the case, he said. From Silver's office in Republican headquarters he went to see Buckley. The result of the in- terview was Buckley's promise to get him an appointment with "A Mr. Eckhart."

He admitted that the discussion of Eckhart's candidacy for the state pro- hibition job was brought up before any of the alleged conferences on the purported bribery attempts were held.

At this point the court called a short recess. Schrimper had been on the witness stand a hour and half.

Schrimper's Testimony.

After the recess, Brumbaugh con- tinued the cross examination. A gen- eral resume of Schrimper's testimony follows:

He donated $250 to Buckley's cam- paign fund on Oct. 12, the money be- ing a portion of the $1,500 Sperber gave Gruber as a retainer's fee. Charged Buckley with bringing up the "Cincinnati good beer" question; and that he set the rate of $5 a half keg as protection money to be split be- tween, Schrimper and Gruber and Buckley and Eckhart. Became con- fused in relating about his confer- ences with brewery officials, especially concerning the dates of these meet- ings.

Says Buckley Used Alias
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 31.—That Bert B. Buckley, state treasurer, now on trial in federal court on bribery and liquor conspiracy charges used the alias C. A. O'Brien, was the state- ment of John L. Schrimper just be- fore he left the witness stand at the trial this morning.

Schrimper, a Cincinnati attorney and former member of the state leg- islature, was jointly indicted with the state treasurer and was called as a government witness. He declared un- der oath that the telegrams sent to him signed O'Brien, were from Buck- ley, and that the telegrams "tipped" him off that raids were being plan- ned on the Cincinnati breweries.

By JOHN J. VINCENT.
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 31.—State Treasurer Bert B. Buckley, on trial in Federal court here on bribery and liquor conspiracy charges, will take the witness stand in his own defense, probably late today or tomorrow, it became known as the trial, which is attracting nation-wide attention en- tered its fourth day.

John L. Schrimper, Cincinnati at- torney, who was jointly indicted with Buckley, is the witness stand at the trial this morning. That is why Doctors have prescribed it for 25 years.

Robert M. Brumbaugh, Dayton Buckley's chief defense attorney, is to cross-examine the alleged con- spirator today. This and Buckley's testimony will be the hi-spots in the trial.

"Dolly" Gruber Testifies.
Adolph "Dolly" Gruber, Schrimper's law partner and admitted conspirator, but who was not indicted because of

GOV. JOHNSTON WILL FIGHT TO KEEP OFFICE

Oklahoma Chief Enters
Denial to Impeachment Counts.

FACES SENATE

Assembly President Answers Published Rumor of "Deal."

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Jan. 31.—Governor Johnston will fight the charges against him, a spokesman for the suspended Oklahoma executive an- nounced shortly before the governor went before the senate to enter formal denial of 11 impeachment counts.

"The governor would fight to the bitter end even if he knew that every member of the senate would vote for his conviction," the spokesman con- tinued.

These utterances on behalf of the defendant governor followed close on the issuance of a formal statement by President Pro. Tem. C. S. Storms of the senate, expressing the hope that the impeachment court would not be "further embarrassed by solicitations of friends or enemies" of the govern- or.

Storms' statement in turn was in- spired by published rumors that a "deal" had been perfected by which, in return for his acquittal, Governor Johnston would depend on the advice of a group of senate leaders for the future conduct of his administration and would dispense with the services of Mrs. Mamie Hammonds, his con- fidential secretary.

Information furnished the govern- ment, testified yesterday. His testi- mony, as of all of the witnesses that appeared, was to substantiate the statements of John F. Eckhart, as- sistant prohibition commissioner of the Ohio-Indiana district, who made the case against Buckley, and who is considered as the government's star witness.

Gruber, from the witness stand, told how Joseph Sperber, brewmaster at the Jackson Brewery company at Cincinnati came to him after federal agents had raided the brewery and found beer containing over a legal alcohol percentage. Gruber said he told Schrimper about the case and the other attorney "cleared" he might be able to do him some good."

Gruber and Schrimper came to Columbus on Oct. 5, and went to Repub- lican headquarters where they met Harry Silver, Ohio's director of fi- nance, and related to him that the beer seized was intended for the American Legion convention in Texas. Next, Gruber stated, "we went to see Bert Buckley, who said he knew the assistant enforcement agent."

Witness Quotes Buckley.
Schrimper, under oath, said that Buckley "approached" him about an arrangement whereby good beer could be manufactured in the Cincinnati breweries. He quoted Buckley as say- ing "I heard you could get $5 a half barrel for protection in Cincinnati and I got $2.50 a half barrel I'll take care of Eckhart and you and Gruber could get the rest."

Besides offering Eckhart a money bribe, the state treasurer also se- cured promising Eckhart his politi- cal influence to obtain for the federal officer the job of assistant prohibi- tion commissioner in Ohio. Two let- ters written to Gov. Cooper by Buck- ley endorsing the cry agent were in- troduced yesterday to strengthen this latter contention.

In one of the letters, Buckley said that Eckhart was "OK" with the Anti-Saloon league and Harry P. Wolf, Columbus newspaper publisher and banker. Wolfe, who is in California, wired that Buckley used his name without his permission and that he had never made it a policy to endorse any candidate.

Government Will Rest Today.
Other witnesses, 12 in number, were examined yesterday. Most of these were Western Union and Postal tele- graph employees and hotel clerks in various southern cities. By their testi- mony, the government sought to show that Buckley had kept in touch with Eckhart and Schrimper through- out a vacation he took immediately after he was re-nominated as state treasurer in the August primaries.

Harry Abrams, assistant United States district attorney, who is helping prosecute the case, said yesterday that he expected the government to complete their case before tonight.

It was then that reports were cir- culated that Schrimper would not take the witness stand.

But after the cross-examination of Gruber by Brumbaugh, Schrimper was called to strengthen the government's case against Buckley.

It appeared improbable today that the case would go to the jury Friday as originally expected. There are other trials listed on the federal court docket for tomorrow, but it is be- lieved that these will be postponed, allowing the Buckley trial to continue uninterrupted.

FORMER U. S. AGENT ADMITS BRIBERY

DETROIT, Jan. 31.—The govern- ment won its case against the first of 20 customs border patrol agents today when William Thompkins, 42, a former agent pleaded guilty to charges of bribery in four indictments before Federal Judge Charles C. Simons.

A fifth indictment was dismissed by the court. Judge Simons announced he would defer sentence until the other agents are tried.

Thompkins' plea of guilty was hailed as a double victory for the government in that postponement of his sentence may mean he will be- come a government witness against the other agents. By admitting his guilt he also made it unnecessary for the government to disclose, at this time, the identity of the special agent whose investigations resulted in the wholesale arrests of government men and rum runners.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Outside of the public utility stocks, most of which carried yesterday's advance a point or so higher, the market was irregular and unsettled in the early trading today. The railroad stocks made a much better response to the favorable December net earnings now being reported, and the so-called "merger rails" were given a vigor- ous upward swing.

Chicago Great Western preferred continued to lead the upward move in the speculative rails, with a 5-point jump to 63 1/4. Stocks in the Nickel Plate group, including Chesapeake and Pittsburgh, and New York, Chicago and St. Louis sold up 1 to 6 points, following the announce- ment of the formation of the Allegheny corporation, by the Van Swer- ligen brothers as holding corporation for these stocks. Bulls in the railroad these stocks. Bulls in railroad stocks have made a good case for their favorites, both as to their actions "on the tape" and the increasing equities behind the rail shares. A gain of 64 per cent in the December net earnings of the first 50 roads to re- port to the interstate commerce com- mission is a proud record for the transportation industry.

New York Central jumped 4 points to 200, the highest price on record for the stock in its present form. Miss- ouri Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, New Haven, Pennsylvania and other well known dividend payers sold up a point or two.

The motor stocks were unsettled by a selling wave which carried prices generally downward.

Be Ready

When your children cry for it

Baby is likely to wake you any night with that sharp cry which means just one thing—colic! Be ready. Keep a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria in the house. A few drops of this pure vegetable comforts a colicky, fretful or feverish baby in a jiffy. In a few moments your anxiety is over and baby's sleeping soundly again. And you've only done what your doctor would advise. He'll tell you Fletcher's Castoria doesn't contain any harmful drug—that it's safe for the youngest infant and effective for children of all ages in cases of constipation, colic, gas, diarrhea and those upsets when you don't know just what is the matter. Avoid imitations. Genuine Castoria bears the Fletcher's signature.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

RURAL POLICE BILL RECOMMENDED, REPRESENTATIVE VAN FOSSAN SAYS

Legislator Sponsors Measure to Fill Township Trustee Board Vacancies in Municipal Court Zones.

LISBON, O., Jan. 31. — "So far 90 bills have been introduced in the senate and 160 in the house," State Representative W. H. Van Fossan announced today.

He declared that the bills of major importance include revision and recodifying the criminal code and the habitual criminal act.

A bill establishing a department of public safety is one of the recommendations of the joint committee on economy of the house and senate appointed two years ago, the report of which has just been issued. This bill provides for a body of uniformed officers to act as rural police.

Van Fossan also announced that an emergency bill just passed carries an item of $36,000 to be distributed among employees of the state library, who have kept the library open for two years without receiving compensation.

"Slowness in printing bills has delayed the work of the house," Van Fossan said. "Committees are now organized and are beginning to pass out bills for consideration on the floor. The work of the senate is about a week ahead of the house."

"Members of both branches are anxious to proceed with necessary legislation as fast as possible, but consistent with the care important measures should have. The start, however, is not indicative of a short session."

"The bill I have in hand to give municipal judges authority to fill vacancies in the 1st of township trustees where a municipal court has superseded a justice of the peace court, has been voted upon by the codes committee and recommended for passage. Other bills I have introduced have not reached a committee."

Keeping Fit Best Preventive For Flu

After The Flu Take This Systemic Tonic To Aid In The Elimination of The Ravages and Waste of Disease

In time of epidemics we definitely realize how important perfect body function is in every day life. People who readily contract colds which lead into grippe, flu and even worse, suffer the penalty for past negligence in the care of health. Keep the body up to par. Good elimination is probably nature's most important demand.

Proper functioning of the liver, kidneys and intestinal tract are probably the most important means of good elimination. When the liver becomes sluggish it must neglect some of its all-important work of neutralizing poisonous toxins in the blood. This tends to throw an additional load on the kidneys, also a sluggishness of elimination in the intestinal tract.

Thousands of cases testify to the value of Owa-Ton-Na in promoting a normal function of the stomach, liver, kidneys and intestinal tract. Owa-Ton-Na acts as a gentle tonic to these organs, thus aiding in normal elimination of harmful poisons which tend to accumulate in the body.

Owa-Ton-Na will be found an invaluable aid in removing harmful poisons from the body after the flu, grippe or severe colds. It will aid nature in restoring normal function of the stomach, liver, and kidneys thus insuring proper assimilation of food which results in a speedy regaining of normal strength and return to normal health.

Among the many interesting cases of those who recommend Owa-Ton-Na is that of Mr. W. J. Walter, 8 W. Green St., Salem, Ohio. He says: "For two years I have been suffering with a bad case of constipation, indigestion, poor appetite and a tired, worn-out feeling. My kidneys were not acting normally. My back at times pained me terribly, and I was forced to get up several times at night to relieve my kidneys. "This condition was getting gradually worse and rheumatism started to bother me. My joints pained me terribly at times and I guess I must have been pretty much run down. When Owa-Ton-Na was recommended to me, I decided to give it a trial and I must

PICTURE PATTERN

THE STYLE presented just pretends a bolero and shows lovely contrast in printed and plain wool jersey. It is very effective in two tones of linen, plain gingham with a tiny checked gingham, printed and plain silk crepe, wool challis, chambray, printed satteen and printed pique.

THE PATTERN of Style No. 2725 contains a Picture Chart showing how the dress is made. A real help to mothers who wish to teach the children to make their own frocks. Cuts in sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years.

In ordering patterns clip the design shown or order by number. Write your name and address plainly enclosing 15 cents and mail to Fashion Department, East Liverpool Review. From 7 to 10 days are required for delivery of patterns.

NEW FASHION BOOK containing all the Spring styles is 15 cents, but may be obtained for 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

Pile Sufferers Can You Answer These Questions? Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief? Why cutting does not remove the cause? Do you know the cause of piles is internal?

That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel? Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by Mathew's Original Cut Rate and druggists everywhere, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. Don't delay. ## REV. W. H. BAKER HITS "EXCUSES" IN RELIGION

Accept Jesus Christ He Urges in Revival.

H. C. BIARD SINGS

Visitors to Attend Church of Christ Tonight.

Vivid comparison of the infinite invitation given mankind by God to accept Jesus Christ as a means of really knowing Him and the reasons of refusal were made in a sermon by the Rev. W. H. Baker, pastor of the First Church of Christ, in the revival service last night. His subject was "Excuses."

The musical part of the meeting was in charge of H. C. Biard, Oklahoma soloist, who was accompanied by Mrs. Biard, organist and pianist. He sang "Go Thy Way Spirit."

Announcement was made that members of the Christian church, of Chester, W. Va., headed by their pastor, the Rev. L. A. Britton, would be in attendance at tonight's service.

Invitation to Supper. The parable of the invitation to the Supper which many refused, giving widely different reasons, formed the basis of the Rev. Mr. Baker's discourse last night.

"This parable simply sets forth the Kingdom of God," he said. "It represents the eternal feast to which all of us have been invited which some are steadily accepting and which others are as constantly refusing."

"This is a gift-edged invitation, coming from God himself. And yet there are many who do not heed it and scarcely notice it at all. If you were to be given an invitation to attend the inauguration of President-elect Herbert Hoover in Washington on March 4 you would be obviously thrilled, so much so that you would show it to your friends and lose no time in making preparations for acceptance."

"But here is an invitation transcending that to attend the elevation of a man to the greatest office in the world. It is direct from the throne of God. And you do not realize that all encompassing fact. None other is comparable with it and no greater distinction than it can come to you."

Call to Holier Things. This invitation is a bid from on high; is a call to holier things. Those accepting it are thrilled as nothing else in the world can be. The act

Cupid Snares Him

William Jennings Bryan, Jr., son of the great orator, who has announced in Los Angeles his coming marriage to Mrs. Ellen Bent Ballinger of California. Bryan, 39 and divorced, is a lawyer by profession.

He touched on the excuses given for refusing such an invitation. He mentioned that some held they would not do during the alleged excitement of a revival campaign; others maintained they were not ready; some declared they can not hold out, therefore it is better not to start and there are those who assert they are not good enough, he pointed out.

"And none of these is of such importance and weight that even human judges and juries would seriously consider it," he concluded. "How much less do they stand as serious reasons by Him who gives the invitation, recognizing more than all of us its inherent value and the loss to be sustained by those not accepting it."

Night flying between Paris and London has just been inaugurated by the French Air Union.

EAST END CHURCH OFFICERS TO ATTEND MEET

The Rev. Frederick A. Dean, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, will head a delegation of church officers tonight at the district meeting of representatives of 12 Presbyterian churches in the First church, East Fourth street, when "The Budget and Every-Member Canvass," will be discussed by the Rev. O. M. Forrester, D. D. New York, specialist on church finances.

Jameson Funeral.

Funeral services for James W. Jameson, 69, were held this afternoon in his home, 1364 E. 13th street, in charge of the Rev. R. C. Beechley, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. Burial was made in Riverview cemetery.

Choir Practice Here.

Choir practice will be held tomorrow night in the Second Presbyterian church, Virginia avenue, in charge of Oliver Johnson.

Encampment to Meet Monday. Members of Tri-State Encampment.

Motherhood

May be made a joy!

"Mother's Friend" is a comfort to expectant mothers. Externally applied, it relieves prenatal distress by relaxing tight tissues and muscles. Its daily use makes the skin soft and pliable.

"I am proud of Mother's Friend," writes Mrs. Thos. Sherosky, Leechburg, Pa. "My 9 1/2 pound baby boy was born a few minutes before the doctor came, and I didn't know I had him."

Start using "Mother's Friend" tonight! It is sold by all drug stores.

Write for free booklet on "Things to Know Before Baby Comes" (sent in plain envelope).

Favorite Knits Smothered Under Avalanche Of Ceramic Points

Canton High Stars Invade City Saturday; More Seats Available Says Decker

Here are outstanding members of the Canton McKinley high school squad which battles the East Liverpool scholastic quint Saturday night at the auditorium: Left to right—Nick Green, guard; Jim Ferrall, guard; Toots Seidler, center and forward; Mickey Earenficht, center; Bob Shrake, forward; Bob Miller, guard; Red Zagray, guard; Morrie Lieber, forward.

The Cantonians will bring two teams and a squad of rosters to East Liverpool Saturday night. The Canton and East Liverpool reserves team gle in the preliminary at 8 o'clock followed by the varsity contest at 9 p. m. Both Canton teams bowed to the Blue and White a year ago but the McKinley varsity avenged their early season defeat by routing Potter tournament hopes at Columbus.

However, before tackling the Stark countians, the Potters have another job on their hands. That they'll tackle at New Philadelphia tomorrow night and, from all indications, should defeat Coach Joe Hurst's "home town" schoolboys.

Hurst and his football squad turned the trick last fall and he and his cage athletes are anxious to duplicate in basketball.

Faculty Manager J. M. Decker distributed a few words of good cheer today when he announced that he has unexpectedly run across more reserved seats for the Canton games. Last week he sent a batch of some thing like 170 ducats to the Canton school and today he was apprised that probably half of these will come back. It seems Canton students are engaged in the very plausible task of combating mid-year examinations and such things and many cannot make the trip here.

Famous Cleveland Five On Short End Here, 49-25

Smith, Lippe on Scoring Rampage Against Forest City Combine; Brian Clothiers Capture Preliminary.

The diminutive Patsy Vrostik, who eats, sleeps and drinks basketball with his favorite Favorite Knits, the class of Cleveland and northern Ohio court circles in general, sat last night behind the scorers' bench at the auditorium with a puzzled look on his face. He was in a silent quandary for three quarters of the Knits' battle with the Ceramics and then toward the close of the game, a genial smile wreathed his face and it was still there as the Ceramics hung a 49-25 trimming on the famous Forest City combine.

He waved his hand at the gold-jedeyed potter five. They're awkward," he observed, "their team work is—well, most of the time it isn't, that's all. They don't have smoothness... they don't have a lot of things—but gosh all f'sh-hooks! How they can shoot!"

And as the Ceramics wound up in a blaze of glory, Smith, Lippe and Miller plugging the basket from all angles of the court, he seemed to be actually enjoying what he considered one of the finest exhibitions of marksmanship that he has witnessed this season, despite the fact that his boys were taking the worst licking they've had all year—and they've had only one other in 16 starts.

They came in from New Philadelphia where they turned back the New Philly Newstand five with three Firestone Fire stars in the latter squad's lineup. Three more games will wind up their week's schedule.

Vrostik identified two members of the East Liverpool combine as hostilities got under way.

He was not surprised when Nate Lippe, the Pittsburgher, began to swish "em in in the second half. "Yeh, I know him," he observed serenely. "He was doing that a good many years ago with Central high in Cleveland."

And he was also familiar with the progress of Fido Smith who accumulated a mere 20 points last night, when Smith was potting them in the Ohio conference.

"How they could shoot!" Vrostik's observation told briefly the story of the Ceramics' triumph over the Clevelanders, as sensational and pleasing to East Liverpool fans as it was unexpected.

The battle opened a little slowly. Smith took a pair of shots and rimmed on both trials. Rosequist was fouled and missed. Smith popped an easy one under the basket. Bill Miller swished one from midfloor and Center Losman, the new member of the East Liverpool five, scored from the side, making the score 6 to 1, East Liverpool.

Smith, fouled by Stevens, made a point. Nelson turned in a great shot from a corner heave and repeated a minute later under the basket. Percy Wyant, Ceramic guard, dribbled the length of the floor and sank the leather for two more points. Dornkott, Knits' guard, dribbled in from the tip to make the score 10-7, East Liverpool, at the quarter.

Losman was fouled by Rosequist and made the first point of the second period. Smith tossed a field goal at short range. Stevens took a pass from Nelson to score a two-pointer under the hoop. Smith counted on a foul. Wyant was hooked as he shot and scored both foul tries. Zorman got loose under the basket and it was easy for him. Rosequist one-handed a short one from the foul line. Zorman tied the score at 16-16 with a long side shot at the half.

Rosequist was fouled by Smith but missed it. Smith, from the outer fringe of the Cleveland defense, dropped one in on a mid-floor chance.

Two Chester Quints Land League Games

T. S. T. Beats Laughlin 6-7; Collegians Trim Katies.

T. S. T. and Chester Collegians broke into the win column in the Chester district basketball league last night. The Potters defeated the Laughlin 6-7 combine, 39-16, while the Collegians were winning from K. T. K., 38-28.

The T. S. T. quint, which has been working out under the supervision of Nate Allen and "Dunk" Smith, showed improved form over their initial efforts, their team play, especially, being superior to that of the opposition's last night.

Keightley, Campbell and Nease led the attack for the Collegians against the Katies. The Ohio potters showed lack of practice and were off in their shooting.

With Buckeye Cagers

Last night's results: Bowling Green, 42; Ohio Northern, 19. Detroit City College, 87; Kent State, 21. Navy, 40; George Washington, 29.

Falcons Wallop Bears. BOWLING GREEN, O., Jan. 31.—Bowling Green college Falcons outclassed and romped almost at will over the Polar Bears from Ohio Northern here last night, 42 to 19. The game was fast, but the Bears seemed unable to find the bucket or to stop the Falcons. Bowling Green lead at half time, 21 to 4.

Because young men are refusing to join golf clubs in Scotland which do not permit play on Sunday many such organizations are taking votes on the question, claiming that at present the clubs cannot meet expenses.

Jones Slated for U. S. G. A. Honors

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Having been benefitted almost beyond all reason, both by what the young man has done and what he has been, the United States Golf association plans to repay at least part of the great debt it owes Bobby Jones by making him its president in the not too distant future, the writer discovered today. The discovery was made coincident with the annual announcement of sub-committees for 1929, the significant feature of which is the fact that Jones, already a member of the general executive committee, is named on three others.

The indication is rather clear, therefore, that the impressive success that has fallen to Jones, the competitor, is following him inevitably in his more or less recent foray into the administrative side of golf. This initial success, it seems, is only the beginning of the story.

It is my information that Jones is in line to go "up" to one of the vice presidencies of the association on the 1930 ticket or, at the worst, not later than the following year. Then, if all goes well—which I fear means that if the association still is as rapt in its admiration—it will place his name in nomination for the presidency within four or five years.

Harrison Johnston, the remarkably nice young man from Minneapolis, is another competitor who is slated to go "up" to executive honors with the coming years. He is named with Jones on each of the membership and reinstatement, the selection of courses and the implements and ball committees and the word is that he is going as high as the association can contrive to send him.

That he ever will be president of the association is a question; with Jones, the matter is a certainty, I am told—if all goes well.

Robert this is destined to follow Bill Fownes, J. Frederick Byers and Findlay Douglas, the current incumbent, to the throne room. All three are former amateur champions, who turned to administration when par began to mock them. Par still figures to be Bobby's push-over when he is bowed formally to the president's chair and, besides, none of the three mentioned ever saw the day when they could match stroke for stroke with him. In fact, no player with the right to contest Jones' ability ever was accorded an honor so high.

When and if elected, he will be the youngest president in the history of competitive golf in America and Great Britain, which virtually means all golf. Jones will be in his early thirties by the time his proposed election is consummated.

GERMAN HEAVIER FOR RISKY BOUT

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, will be heavier than he has ever been for a ring engagement when he crawls into the garden ring tomorrow night to fulfill his ten-round engagement with Johnny Risko. The Teuton completed his intensive training for the contest at Summit, N. J., and after the final workout tipped the beam at 155 pounds.

Risko appears to be the same fighter that he always has been. However, since taking terrific body punishment from George Godfrey last summer the Cleveland baker has not been impressive at any time, and the suspicion that he has passed his peak seems to be well grounded.

Risko admits that he hasn't looked any too well since then, but asks the fans to withhold their judgment until after tomorrow night's battle.

"Strib" Hits Florida With 2,000 in Wake

Macon Heavy Followed By Whooping Crowd of Fans.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 31.—Young Bill Stribling, pride of the south, was here today to make ready for his bout with Jack Sharkey, of Boston, Feb. 27. He arrived here last night with Ma Stribling, young Mrs. Stribling and Bill's baby.

In the wake of the Macon heavy-weight came a whooping, enthusiastic crowd of two thousand Stribling partisans, in automobiles. They escorted him to the Dade county court house, where Mayor Sewell presented him with a key to the city.

Stribling and his mother and wife then dined with Jack Dempsey and W. F. Carey, vice president of Madison Square Garden, at the latter's residence.

The young Macon heavy-weight probably will not start actual training until Monday.

The only member of the Stribling entourage to miss the welcome here was "Pa." The Stribling car broke down 125 miles from Miami Beach. "Pa" remained behind with it while the rest of the family came on to keep their appointment here.

BAMBINO DUE IN FLORIDA TODAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Babe Ruth was due at the training camp of the New York Yankees at St. Petersburg, Fla., this morning. Ed Barrow, business manager of the world's champions, revealed that the home run king was bound for St. Petersburg when he fled from newspapers here Tuesday night.

The Babe plans to play 36 holes of golf daily for two weeks to strengthen his legs for the baseball campaign, and also will go fishing with Lou Gehrig before trying out his home run swing.

BUCKEYE TRAINER JOINS TORNADOES

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 31.—Mike Chambers, Ohio State university's athletic trainer for the past three years, will take up his new duties as head trainer and varsity boxing coach at Georgia Tech, Sept. 1, it was announced here today.

Chambers returned late yesterday from Atlanta, where he conferred with Bill Alexander, football coach, and other Tech officials. The famous Buckeye trainer is a graduate of Illinois where he was prominent in sports, and a member of the 1923 Big Ten championship football team. After graduating, Mike stayed at Illinois and assisted in the training quarters there for two years, and then joined William, then head coach at Iowa State, as head trainer. When Dr. Wilce invited William to become assistant on the coaching staff, an invitation was also sent to Chambers to become head trainer here, which he accepted.

Harold S. Wood, who has been assistant director of intramurals at Ohio State university, was appointed director of the intramural department, to succeed Sam Williamson, who has been appointed head football coach, by the athletic board yesterday afternoon.

The board also acted favorably upon the selection of Don Miller and George Houser, as members of the varsity football coaching staff.

Grade School Passers Start Drills Saturday

Bill Watkins, Nate Lorah to Coach Future Stars At Auditorium; Tournament Planned As Climax Event.

PRACTICE schedule for grade school basketball clubs, according to a plan worked out by William Watkins and Nate Lorah of the East Liverpool Athletic association, together with Superintendent McVey and school authorities will start the youngsters to work Saturday, February 2 in the public auditorium.

Squads will be selected from virtually all city grade schools during the workouts, the whole being divided into two groups, one coached by Watkins and the other by Lorah.

These workouts will lead up to a city-wide grade school tournament. The following teams will report to the auditorium, as scheduled, for workouts:

A Highly Amusing Story of a Romance
Aboard a Millionaire's Yacht.

By Arnold Bennett

Lord Furber clinched his teeth together, and pulled a face, and seemed to dance about in fury.

"Great Scott!" he growled. "I thought those ideas were dead and buried and 'd begun to stink years ago. And here I have to stand and listen to 'em now! Of course ye need work. Work's just what ye do need. And if ye do honest work at a fair price ye won't be taking bread out of anybody's mouth. On the contrary, ye'll be putting it in. All work's to the good. Look at ye! Look at yerself. Other people are keeping ye, making yer clothes and cooking yer food and cleaning yer room and washing ye fairs and playing music for ye. And ye do nothing yerself except sit around and complain of headaches and backaches. How's that, Miss Perkins?"

Lord Furber felt quite happy.

"You're rather a brutal Baron, aren't you?" Harriet fenced feebly.

"If I am, I'm taking lessons from you. I'm treating ye as an equal. Of course, if ye want me to treat ye like a doll again—"

"Again?"

"Yes, again. I said I'd tell ye something about yerself. Here it is. Ye were only pretending just now when ye nearly fainted. Ye'd got tired of fighting and ye wanted a rest. And so ye thought ye'd play up to me with a touch of the doll business."

"Dye suppose I didn't see through it? Ye thought ye were deceiving me, but I was deceiving you by pretending to be deceived. What about it?"

"What made you think I was only pretending?"

"Yer color. It never changed. When a woman faints it's because the blood's leaving her head. So she goes pale."

Miss Perkins laughed gayly.

"Five Towns again!" she said. "You're still in them. Won't you ever get away? Haven't you ever heard of rouge? I expect not."

Lord Furber turned his back, walked away, and returned. He was frowning. Then the frown vanished and he gave a loud laugh and lifted his arms.

"Kamerad!"

"Still, I was pretending," said Harriet.

Lord Furber dropped his arms and stamped.

"Confound ye."

"Now, as you're so clever, tell me how to find work, and I'll find it."

"Lord Furber wrestled with a wild, foolish impulse, and was thrown."

"Ye've found it."

"What d'you mean—I've found it?"

"Be my secretary."

There was a pause in which his lordship had a terrible fear that she would not refuse his offer.

"And take the bread out of Count Veruda's mouth?" she smiled blandly.

"Yes, I couldn't stick the two of ye."

"You're very adventurous, Baron."

"Well, perhaps I am."

"But I don't know shorthand or typewriting or filing or bookkeeping. I did once try to learn typing, but I was beaten off with great loss."

"I don't want a clerk. I've got scores of 'em. I want a secretary."

"What should I have to do?"

"I'm an idiot. I'm an idiot. And I canna help it," said Lord Furber to himself. And aloud: "Oh! All kinds of odd jobs. Ye'd be very useful to me. Ye're tempted?"

"Who wouldn't be?"

"It's agreed then. Salary doesn't matter. Start to-morrow."

"How like you," observed Miss Perkins. "Do you imagine I'd take any post without knowing quite a lot about my employer? It's employees who ought to ask for references, not employers."

"Just listen, then. I'll tell ye about yer employer."

Lord Furber stood and then sat down. He lighted a cigar and immediately threw it away. The Titan was nervous before Harriet. He felt that he was still sitting for an examination and must pass it, if possible, with honors.

He said to her:

"I'm a self-made man—don't be afraid, I'm not going to give details of the manufacture. Now there's always something amateurish about anything ye've made yerself. I know I'm amateurish, say rough-finished, in parts. That's enough about that. I began as a mechanical inventor, and from the first my inventions brought me in a lot of money. When I say a lot, I mean a lot. I wasn't out after money, never have been, but money overtook me and I couldn't escape it. Royalties on patents, ye know. I went on inventing until I was 35, and then I dried up. I suppose I'd run through the vein. Happens sometimes. You do come to the ends of things. But money rolled in just the same. Even more. One day I found all of a sudden I was worth a million in gilt-edged stuff. That was nothing. Today if I was reduced to a million again I lay I should think myself a pauper. Ye notice I don't tell ye how much I am worth. No reason why I shouldn't; but it's more effective not to. If ye knew the figure ye wouldn't be half as impressed as ye are—no matter how big the figure was."

"Oh! Shouldn't I!" said Harriet, rising out of her chair and strolling about the room.

"No, ye wouldn't! And this piling-up business is still going on, and I can't stop it. Nothing can stop it. I don't mind telling ye that Henry VII paid all the expenses of governing England out of an income less than mine is. That'll give ye a notion. People call me one of the new Huns, because I'm so darned rich. Well, I can't help it. What could I do? I couldn't refuse my royalties or the interest on my investments. Silly! I couldn't burn the money. I've been asked why I don't use my money trying to regenerate society. Society's all wrong, but it can't be set right by chucking money about. Silly! It can only be set right by common sense, and common sense is a thing money can't buy. Same with charity. I do a bit of charity, because I'm afraid not to. But I hate it. I don't believe in it. It only does harm. Some of the new Huns spend their money on social schemes and charity because they're ashamed of being rich and they want to dope their consciences. I haven't a conscience, and if I had one it would be a perfectly clear conscience as far as my money's concerned. So what am I to do? I try all I can not to let my money accumulate. This yacht's one of my efforts in that line. My wife does her best. To no good." He shook his head. "Nobody can spend more than a certain amount, and nobody's wife can. Ye see the difficulty?"

"Quite."

"Then sit down. It's against nature for a woman to be tramping about while a man's in an easy-chair as easy as this one. Sit down."

Miss Perkins obeyed.

"Please, may I speak?" she asked modestly.

"I haven't quite finished," said Lord Furber.

"I only wanted to remind you that I'm not your secretary yet."

"No. And if ye keep on tapping your foot like that ye never will be."

Miss Perkins arose and resumed walking.

"Well," Lord Furber continued, with a sort of deep growling sigh, "as soon as I stopped inventing I began to be bored. Rather a lark to be raised to the peerage, and waking up the House of Lords. But I got tired of that after a few months. I had to find something to do. If I'd kept on doing nothing, with all my eury, I should soon ha' been doing nothing in a lunatic asylum. Then I discovered I had judgment—and financial judgment. I found out by looking into my investments myself, just for something to occupy myself with. I'd always left 'em to stockbrokers before. I soon found stockbrokers were listening to me, instead of me to them. So I took up finance. Great pity, because it made me richer than ever. But if a man has a faculty he must use it."

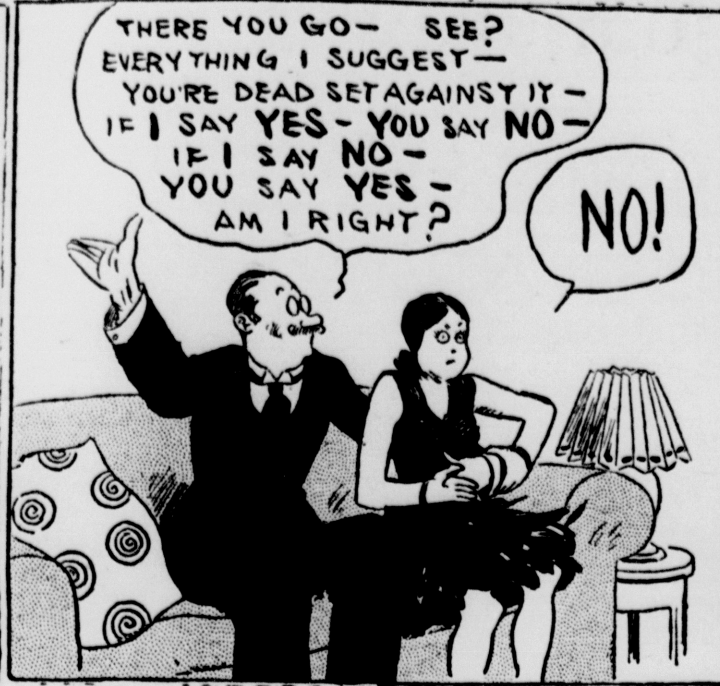

"Besides," said Harriet, "on the whole I suppose it's better to be too rich than too bored, isn't it?"

The Baron gazed at her, frowning absently.

NEWSGIRL, 10, IS KIDNAPED

Five Hundred Men Comb Indiana for Missing Tot.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 31.—More than 500 men combing two counties today had found no trace of little Edith May Dierdorf, 10-year-old newsgirl, believed to have been kidnapped by a fiend.

The only clue thus far uncovered was the bloodstained newspaper bag (the girl) found on the Dixie highway near Paxton, Ind.

The girl was unusually pretty and large for her age.

Clarence Brother, Terre Haute grocer, has identified a picture of the girl as the child who bought chewing gum at his store Sunday noon and rode away with a man in an automobile.

Because they retire and rise early in the period from April to October, laborers of the province of Alicante, Spain, have devised the plan of discontinuing all electric service in their homes during that time.

PRINCE SEES MINE DISTRESS

Wales Off For London
After Visit to Newcastle.

NEWCASTLE, England, Jan. 31.—Grieved and touched by the distress he has encountered in the homes of jobless miners in the British coal fields, the Prince of Wales, who came north like a good samaritan, will leave for London tonight after a three-day tour of personal inspection. Still suffering from the cold contracted by exposure on the first day of his visit to the mining districts, the prince carried out the last day of his program by touring the Bishop-Aukland mining areas. During his journey through Durham and Northumberland through snow storms and over roads deep with mud, the prince has visited many miners' cottages and talked with members of distressed families. In some instances, where misery was acute, the prince ordered immediate relief, not waiting for the cases to pass through the official channels where there might be undue delay. A secretary, who accompanied the heir to the throne, made lengthy notes, at the suggestion of the prince, in many cases relief will be furnished by the London relief fund of which the prince is patron.

A tribe which has been found in Morocco blind their idols with ropes and leave the fetters on until a prayerful request is granted or the displeasure of the disappointed supplicant abates.

Get Your Vegetables in Liquid Form!

DOUTLESS you know there are valuable dietary qualities in vegetables, but not all of us get enough fresh vegetables, and one soon tires of a "vegetable diet." A very easy way to remedy this is to get a little syrup pepsin. Take a spoonful occasionally and you stimulate the inner system. Your keener appetite, and perfect assimilation of whatever you eat will soon show you are on the right track! Your elimination will become more thorough and regular.

It isn't necessary to give up things you like to eat; or eat a lot of other things because you "ought to." The syrup pepsin can establish that perfect balance without dieting. And how pure syrup pepsin tones the stomach, liver, and bowels! You'll soon discover you can eat anything. Your chronic recurring constipation spells will disappear. Anybody who will take this simple precaution will go month after month without need of the powerful purges so frequently needed in the past.

Make a test of this wonderful vegetable product. Dr. Caldwell first used it in 1875. Today, you cannot name a druggist who hasn't this famous prescription always on hand, all put up, directions enclosed. Nothing is so wonderful for children, too; it is an ideal combination of laxative herbs and pure pepsin that just about insures the health of young or old.
